Following God is not an easy decision, but obedience to Him has hidden protection and provisions beyond what the eyes can see. So, every act of sacrifice for Him is worth it. Even at times when He moves differently than prayed or expected, Divine Trust teaches to wait in stillness – confidence for whatever God has in store as it always exceeds human expectations (Ephesians 3: 20). Many on their spiritual journeys choose the least resistant path. Fearing loss in this life and all that the sacrifice of obedience to God costs, they follow the masses to the easier way. Those who truly experience and encounter God, however, will suffer but they will also be rewarded not only in the life to come but in this one. This ministry is determined to follow and obey God, whether by ‘waters still or by troubled seas.’ Committed to partnering with Him to advance His kingdom of light over that of darkness, is the reason the ministry exist.

Year in Review

The Warfare Series

The Spiritual warfare series was hosted this year. The community of faith reached earnestly for the teachings, and by inspiration, we delivered on the subject. The results were monumental. While many professed Christians, sadly are terrified of the topic of warfare many such people are unsuspectingly its victims. Especially those who profess to have all knowledge of biblical truth and superior insight to the Great Controversy between good and evil. Just like the Pharisees of old, they are filled with theology but void of knowledge of things of the spirit. Like Nicodemus even teachers of the law cower in the face of this topic. No One who truly “fears” God, however, lives in fear of His adversary.

The Great Controversy between good and evil is the catalyst behind all of life’s ills. Despite this biblical truth, apparently, when spiritual leaders and adherents are confronted with the spiritual breakdown of how the conflict plays out in the earth, like ancient Israel on the battlefield before Goliath, many run for cover. Few ‘stand like brave with their face to the foe’. The objective of the ministry is to educate so that God’s people are not casualties of the spiritual battle. Divine assignments can be tough but like Jonah, Noah and all those like them called to do unusual and unpopular tasks, at He leadeth Me Ministries and the Spiritual Intelligence Network, we endeavor to fulfill the tasks.

The spiritual backlash in fulfilling this call has been tremendous. But despite the attacks the ministry is unafraid to cross enemy line, teaching how to reclaim all that has been lost and stolen God's people in the Great Conflict. Under the Theme "LET US PRAY", the ministry opened the eyes of the blind and set many captives free from spiritual bondage. The results brought change in many lives bringing many testimonies to how limited lives found breakthroughs, healing from disease, freedom from mental oppression, careers advanced, marriages mended, singles entering their marital destinies and prosperity no longer elusive. For this we Praise God!

The ministry also hosted a virtual healing conference. Attendees were blessed by the ministries of Dr. Claudine Smith (MD) and Dr. Arthur Branner a Minister, Therapist and Former Military chaplain. Their respective presentations were God – bred, as they broke down the paths to mental, emotional and Physical healing and their connections to strengthening the connection to God. There have been plenty of requests for a repeat.

God promised to repair the breach (Isaiah 58: 12) and restore the stolen years of our lives (Joel 2: 25). We are honored through this ministry to be God's means to that divine end (Jeremiah 29: 11).

Writing is amongst God's most powerful ways of communicating. He has used many writers' past and present. The divine mandates to write are, therefore, frequent. This year one book was published and two more are in the publication phase. While there are many modern-day writers who use artificial intelligence as a writing tool, I met with heavenly Intelligences before AI was ever a thing and partnered with my Ghost Writer the Holy Ghost, to birth manuscripts. I've not relied on anyone but God to bring His assignments to pass. As 2026 approaches we look forward to the upcoming publications. Kingdom's business will always be the ministry's business.

Meeting Felt Needs

Ministry far transcends glam and fame. It is not of a celebrity stage but a place of servitude. It is about meeting the felt needs of people within and outside the community of faith. It is about 'seeking the lost and pointing to Jesus' souls that are weak and Hearts that are torn.' This year, the Ministry made contributions of supplies to two charities both nationally and internationally. To my home Country of Dominica and my community of upbringing specifically. Maternity supplies and elderly care supplies were donated. On the national level, supplies were donated to a local Domestic Violence and Maternity Shelter. We also made financial and supply contributions towards victims of Hurricane Melissa. We look forward to expanding the ministry's reach globally.

The ministry also released its new updated app this Fall. This new app provides a wider variety of content with updated, edited features and imagery to bring a richer spiritual encounter and experience to the consumer. We are committed to giving the best to the community of faith.

New Resolutions

Resolutions should not only be at the start of the year. Throughout the year people should reconsecrate themselves to God, making assessments on how to be of greater value to Him, His kingdom and His people. It is the spiritual process of sanctifying ourselves, affirming the connection and renewing our relationship with God. This way, when the new year rolls in we are well prepared and equipped to face whatever comes our way. In the spirit of new year resolutions, let's resolve to express our love for God by serving and caring for others (Mathew 20: 40-45). The fact that we survived 2025, is evidence that with God we will also survive and thrive in 2026. From the team at He leadeth Me Ministries - The Spiritual Intelligence Network, May the New Year be filled with God's abundant Blessings.

New Year Blessings

Thank You

As the Founder and Servant of this ministry, I first thank God for His blessings of Provision, Protection and Prosperity. He has indeed proven that His power is Greater. We thank You Lord!

I'd like to thank the incredible ministry team for their unwavering and excellent ministry service. May all of God's goodness continue to pass before each of you.

To all those whom God has used in my life personally and the ministry; my biological and spiritual family God sent friends and destiny helpers, Thank You, for making this journey doable and bearable. You are loved and appreciated, more than words could ever express.
